

VISIT THE LIBRARY WITH YOUR CHILD

With the school holidays approaching, why not visit the library to build your child's love for reading? Here are some tips for a fruitful trip to the library.

- 1 Follow your child's lead. Let them select books of their interest. This builds their independence and love for reading.
- 2 Spend some time at the library reading with your child in one of the many cosy corners there. Help your child build happy memories in the library!
- 3 Model a love for reading for your child. Pick out a book for yourself too!

Besides visiting the library with your child, you can engage your child in reading and related activities by checking out the virtual events and children's e-resources from the National Library Board. Scan the QR codes below!

Virtual events

Children's e-resources

"Reading is the gateway for children that makes all other learning possible."

Barack Obama